R.H.S... a feeling
not a place

we've been good friends for a long time, and we always will be. Ever since 8th grade we've been doing crazy things, like double dating with Chris and Nifer Cooper. Don't ever let Miss Gallion know that you weren't really sick that night that I "drove" you home from play practice? You're a very talented person, so just keep on trucking and someday you can send me a complimentary copy of "Parris Poetry and other weird things." Just kidding about the title? Stay cool and let's teach R. H. S. how it is done these last two years? O. K.?

REPMO 1975

Loving, Laughing, Giving—That's Our Mrs. Ray!!

(1) The REPMO this year is dedicated to Mrs. Ray for working so hard on it the last 7 years. Since she's leaving this year to have her baby, this layout was made especially for her and without her knowing about it. As you can tell, in this picture she's getting suspicious and asks, "What are all these pictures of ME for?" (2) Here Mrs. Ray demonstrates the "Loving" mentioned in the headline, as she gives Alan Radar a big hug for receiving football awards. (3) When work is going on in Publications, Mrs. Ray is always in the middle of it and working the hardest to put out the best possible REPMO and TIGER TRACKS. (4) The "Laughing" is symbolized here by that sweet smile we all love. (5) "Giving" is shown here as Mrs. Ray gives Kendall McPhail a picture order. (6) Everyone will certainly miss this sight! It's the sight of Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Andrus having a chat in the hall.

*"... Cindy Weatherford Is Your 1975 Repmo Queen."
Mac Davis*

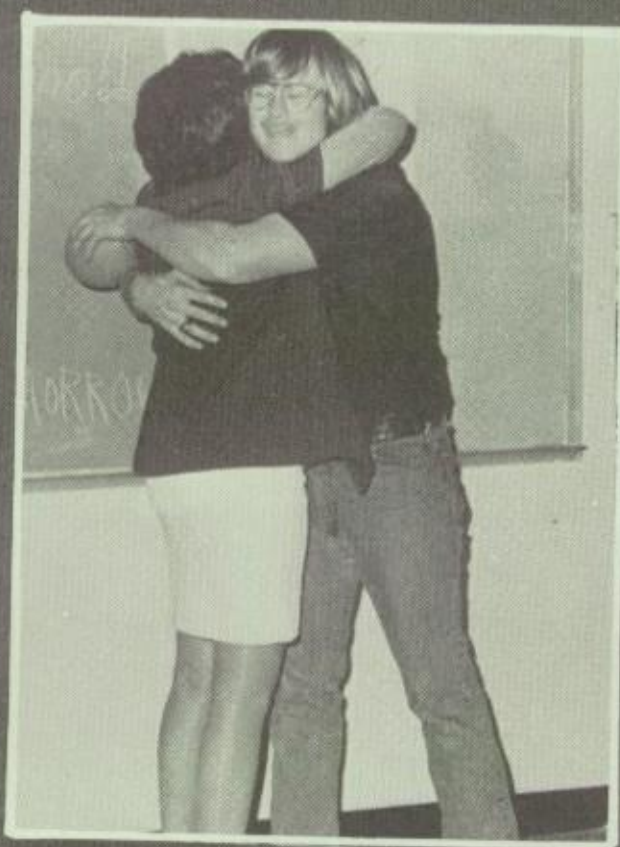

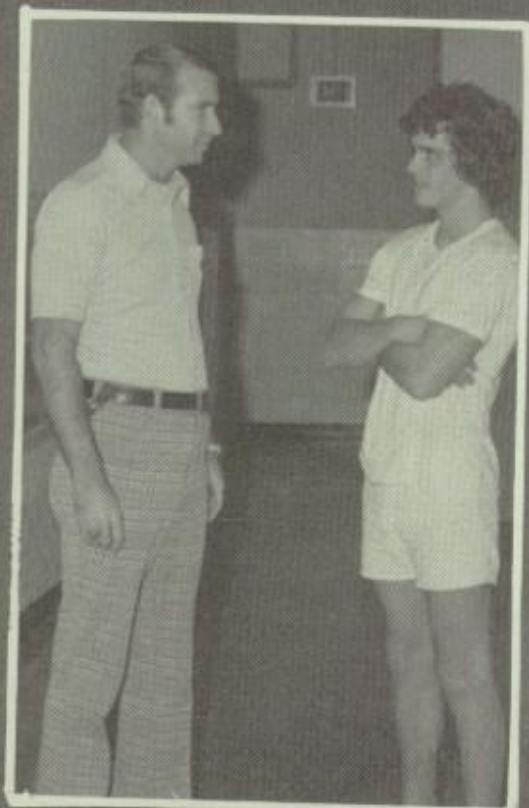

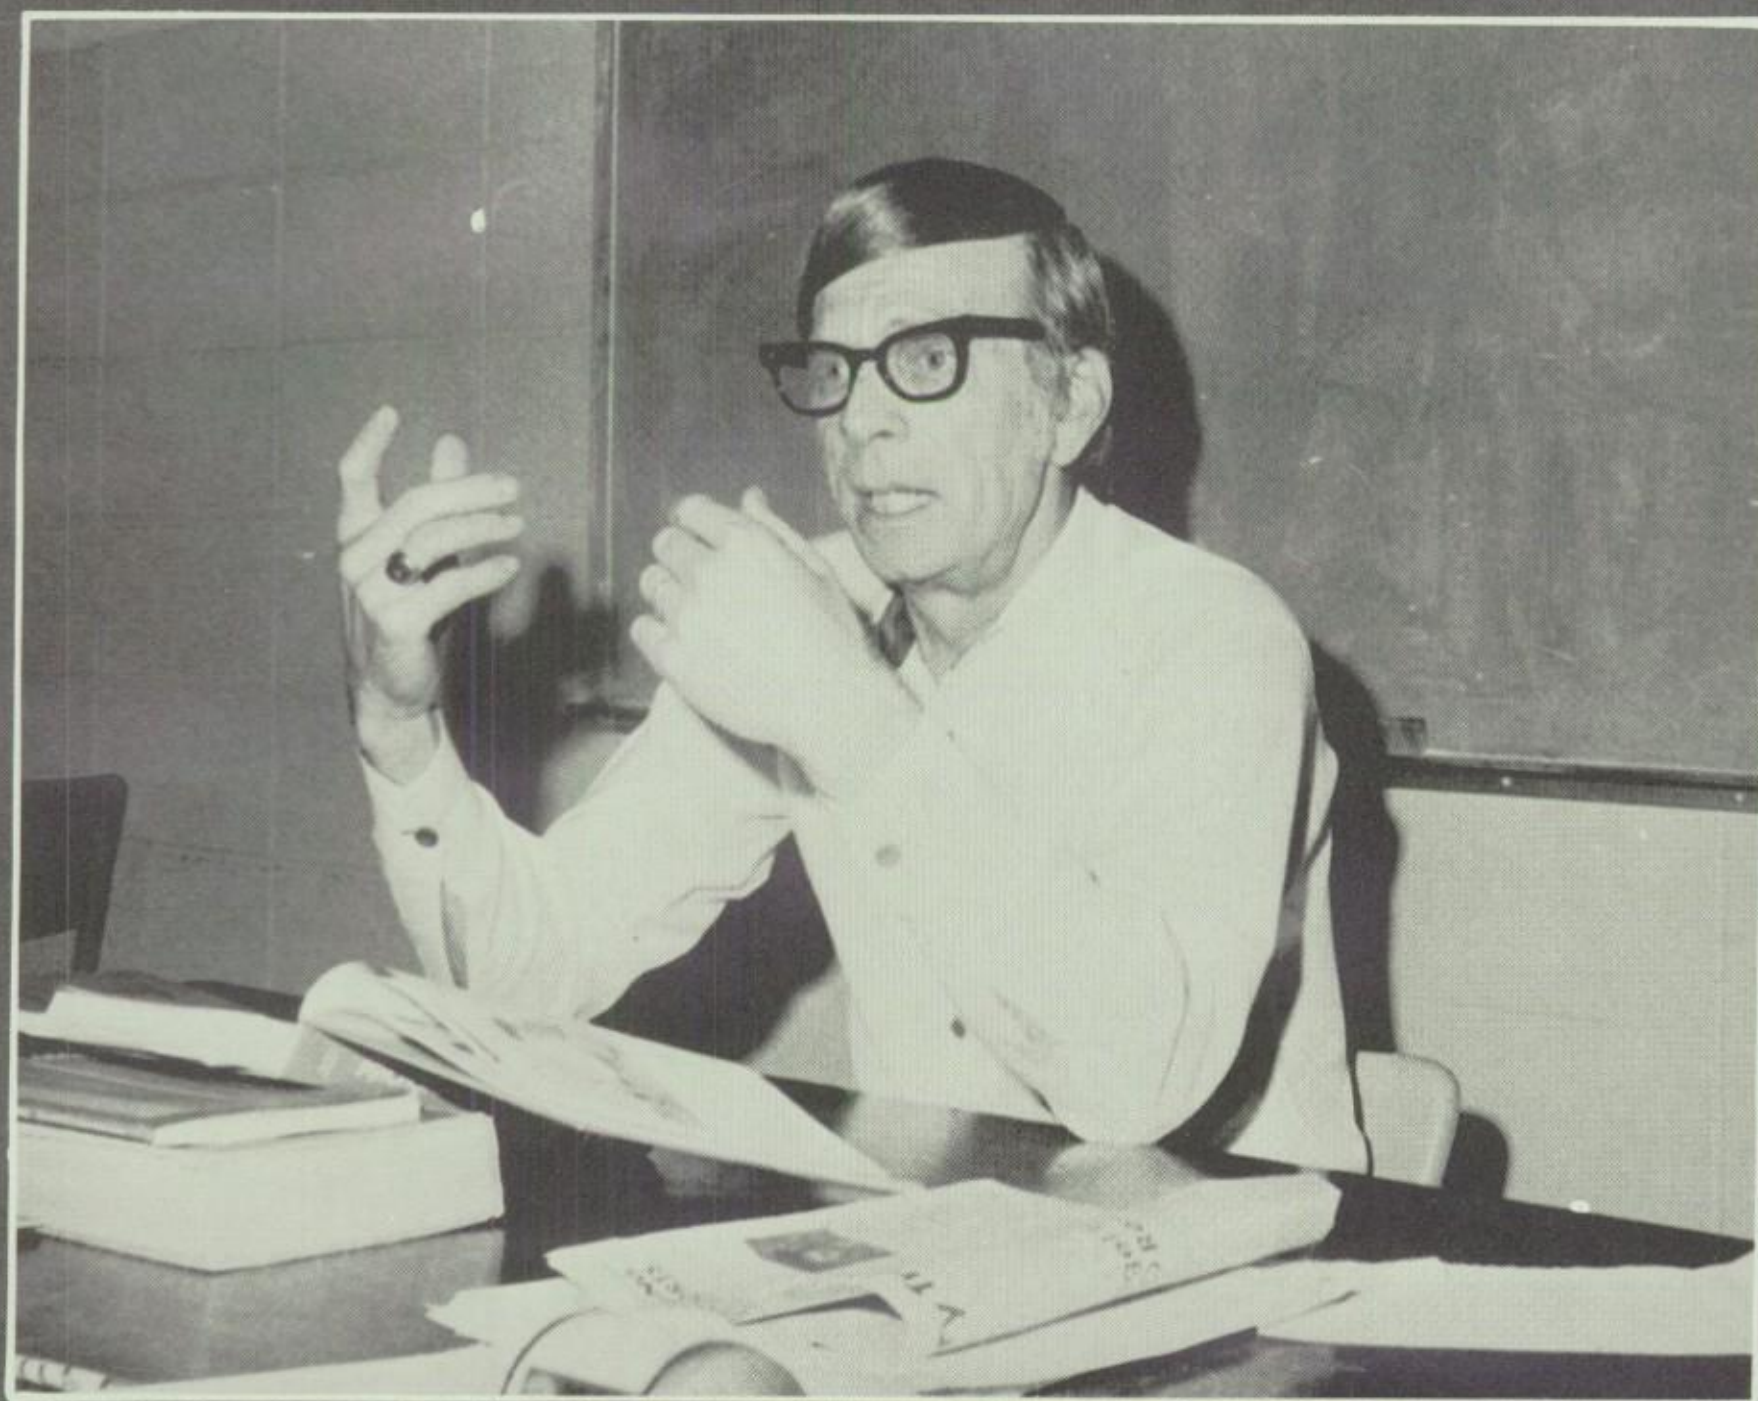

"All the Young Ladies Are Quite Lovely . . ."

Mac Davis, recording and TV personality, did the honor of selecting the 1975 Repmo queen, MISS TIGRESS.

From pictures and resumes he chose Cindy Weatherford. In his letter he commented on the difficulty of the choice and complimented the other candidates Lynette Dorrell, Marti Coggin, and Suzy Blades. As a memento of the occasion, he sent personal autographed pictures to each of the girls.

ENLIGHTENMENT

School Board Faces Changes & Challenges

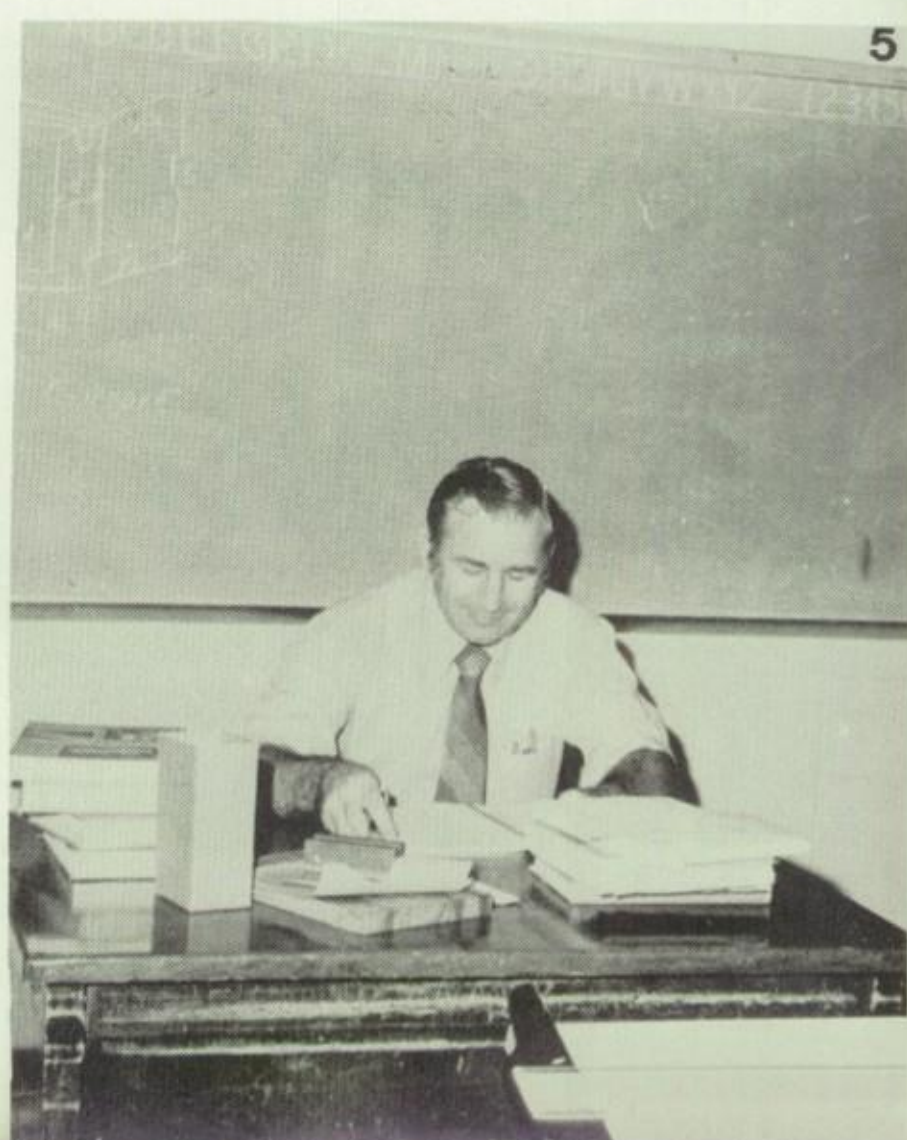

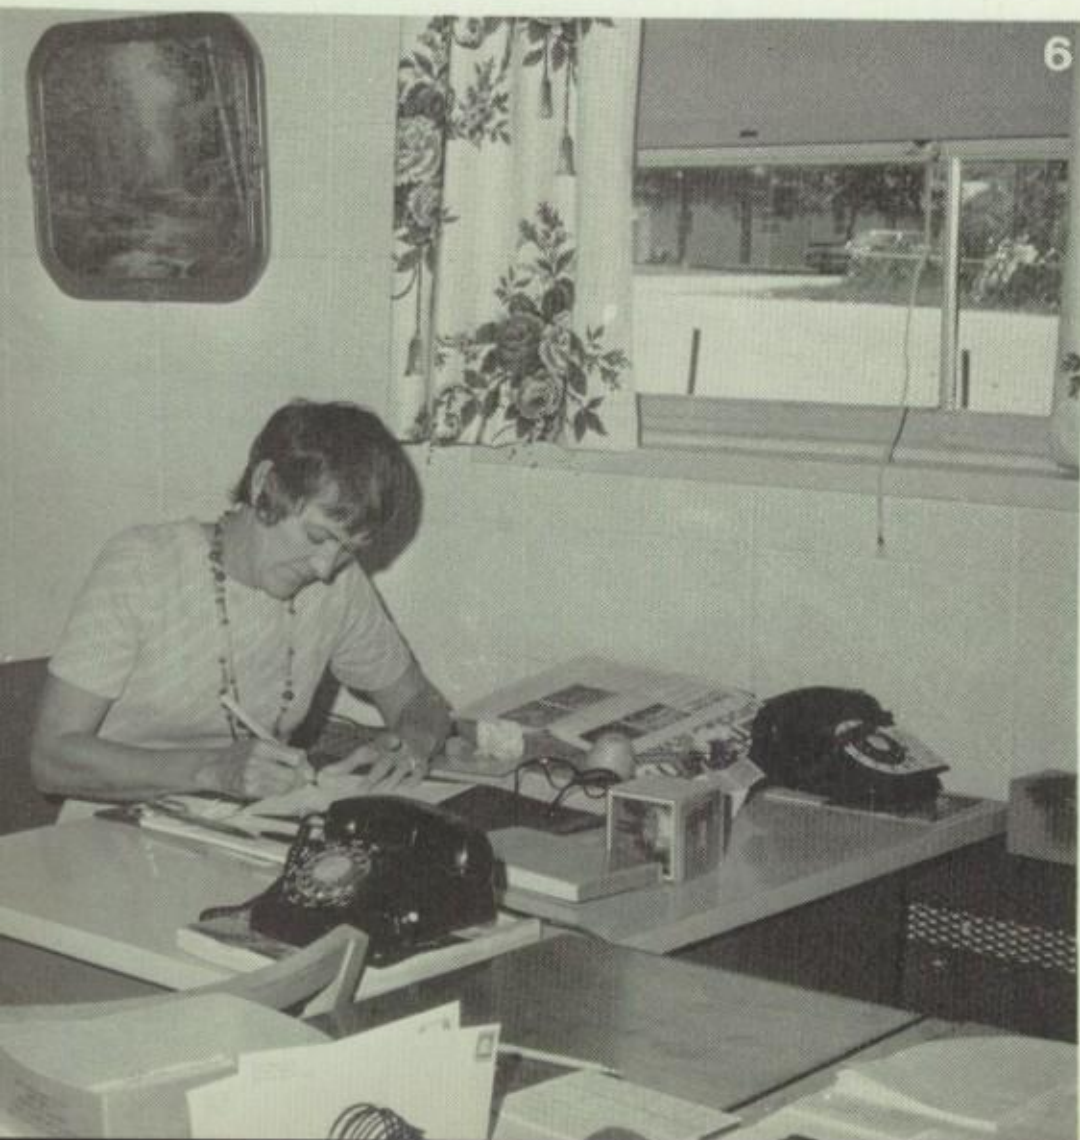

By state law, the Republic School District is under the directorship of six persons elected by the patrons of the district. School board elections are held every spring with two positions to be filled. The people chosen are invested with the tremendous responsibility of administering to the educational needs of today's youth.

(1) 1974-75 Republic School Board included Superintendent William Schatz, Bob Arndt, C. E. Stufflebeam, Bill Rader, Gene Hunter, Jack Trogdon, and Kenneth Day.

(2) Agri-business occupies much of the busy day of Bill Rader. Both of his children, Nathan and Elise, are graduates of Republic High School. (3) A professor of Agriculture at SMSU, Dr. C. E. Stufflebeam combines his busy schedule with a willingness to help on the local scene. (4) Gene Hunter, a newcomer to the Board, relaxes from his business for a few rounds on the golf course. (5) Former graduate Bob Arndt checks his carpenter tools before beginning an active day. In addition to his service to the school, Mr. Arndt participates in the Jaycees. (6) Pausing from his book work, Ken Day is shown running his lumber yard business. (7) Jack Trogdon, preparing to leave for his agency in Springfield, is one of the board faithfuls who has worked with his colleagues in ironing out many difficult problems.

It's Tough To Be At the Top

(1) Mr. Donald Farwell, high school principal, is shown scheduling events on the school calendar. (2) Mr. Bill Schatz is in his tenth year as superintendent of the Republic school system. (3) Aside from coaching duties, Mr. Bob Fletcher also assumes the position of junior high principal. (4) The position of junior high assistant principal was added to this year's administration. Assuming this role is Mr. Larry Carter. (5) Authorizing excuses and directing traffic to lunch are just two of the many jobs Mr. Marvin Bridges must accomplish daily as assistant principal. (6) Mrs. Genivea Evans is busy with one of her many duties as elementary principal.

Counselors and Secretaries Keep School Efficient

(1) Scheduling is one of many tasks Mrs. Winell Gibson fulfills as high school counselor. (2) Miss Jane Gray and Mrs. Joanna Clouse discuss problems of the younger generation. (3) Mrs. Madge Blades, junior high secretary, assists a student. (4) Mr. Charles Brashers discusses a problem as junior high counselor. (5) High school secretary, Mrs. Sue Brown, keeps lunch money accurate. (6) Serving as secretary to the superintendent is Mrs. Floried Mount. (7) Mr. James Klingebiel, high school counselor, goes over test results.

"Oolie Droolie" or "ohboyohboyohboy" filled the halls of RHS while cast members of Rock-N-Roll practiced lines for the performance on the night of April 18. The 50's play had everything from ruby lips to bobby socks to make all the viewers have a feeling of pure nostalgia in their hearts. Some of the leading characters in the play were: Charles Beebe as Corndoggie, Karen Fair as Betsy Lou, Kendall McPhail as Mannfred, Kim Wood as Bumpers, Debbie Wade as Darlene, and Steve Brown as Forrest. The play director was Ms. Gallion, with Joanna Billingsley as choreographer. Mr. Mark Moffitt and his fabulous pit band provided all the music needed for the play. A featured attraction was the appearance of Johnny Saphire played by Mark Ruckman.

Rock-N-Roll Relives "50's"

50's Day Is

Fashion and Gymnastic Show Are Fraught With Peril

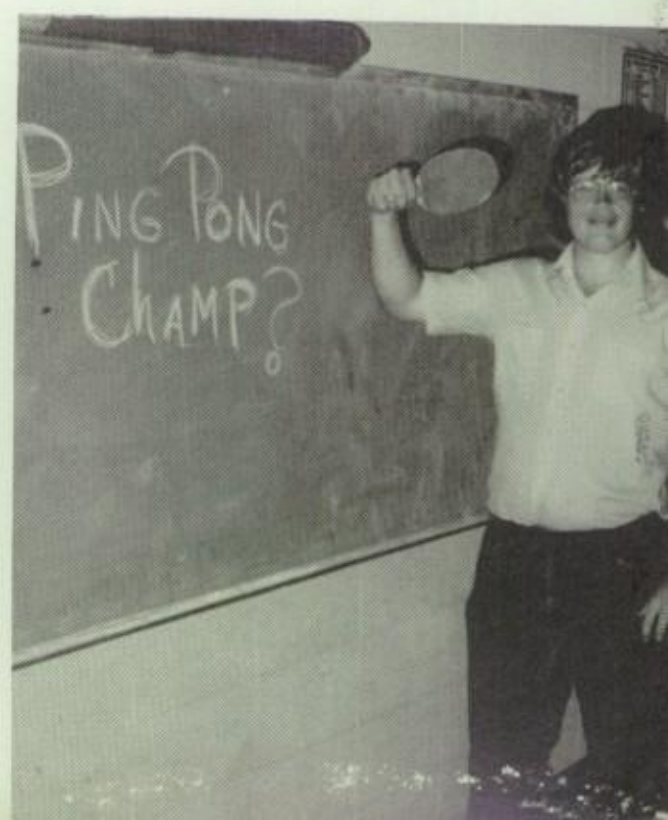

As the headline implies, the two respective shows were fraught with peril. A tornado scare emptied the gym twice and the gymnastics portion of the show had to be rescheduled. (1) A group of attention grabbing students focus their smiles at the camera on 50's Day. (2) Penny Britain entertains the Fashion Show audience with a roller skating act. (3) and (4) Debbie Wade and Cindy Glenn add their flowers to the arrangement. (5) This year, 50's Day was held in conjunction with the play ROCK-n-ROLL, in which Karen Fair and Charles Beebe had the leading roles.

Faculty Winning Streak Broken

(2) Steve Brown attempts to deflect a ball put up by Coach Neil Pittman in the faculty game. (3) Needless to say Alan Radar was the champion of the ping pong part of the Intramurals.

The traditional Intramural games were held again at RHS this year. The faculty's usual win over the students didn't prevail this time, however. The guys whipped the men teachers in an exciting game that ended in a 58-60 score.

Students Tackle Other Side of Desk

Once again members of FTA took on the responsibilities that the teachers usually face, fortunately, with a good outcome.

(1) Daphne Henson prepares a biology lesson for 7th and 8th graders. (2) 3rd graders give Lynn Propps their attention as she explains math problems. (3) Kim Wood picked Jr. High music classes as her teaching project. (4) Juanita Lee is caught lecturing Mrs. Andrus's English class. (5) Art was just one of Kim Clanton's courses that she taught 1st graders.

(3) Eating rotten bananas was just one of the many feats new French club members had to accomplish at initiation. (4) Mike Kendrick finds just the right thing to wear to the Spanish club initiation. (5) Gail and Joanna try to fill Mark's bottomless pit. (6) Spanish club officers discuss plans for the annual dinner.

Publication's Job: To Gather the News And Preserve the Memories

(1) Mrs. Ray and (blech!!!) Kendall McPhail are shown here conferring over some picture orders. (2) Kim Wood performs her one rated piano solo at the talent show sponsored by Pub. Class. (3) Another group performing in the talent show was the Oriental Express. (4) Editor Joanna Billingsley looks over the latest issue of the news.

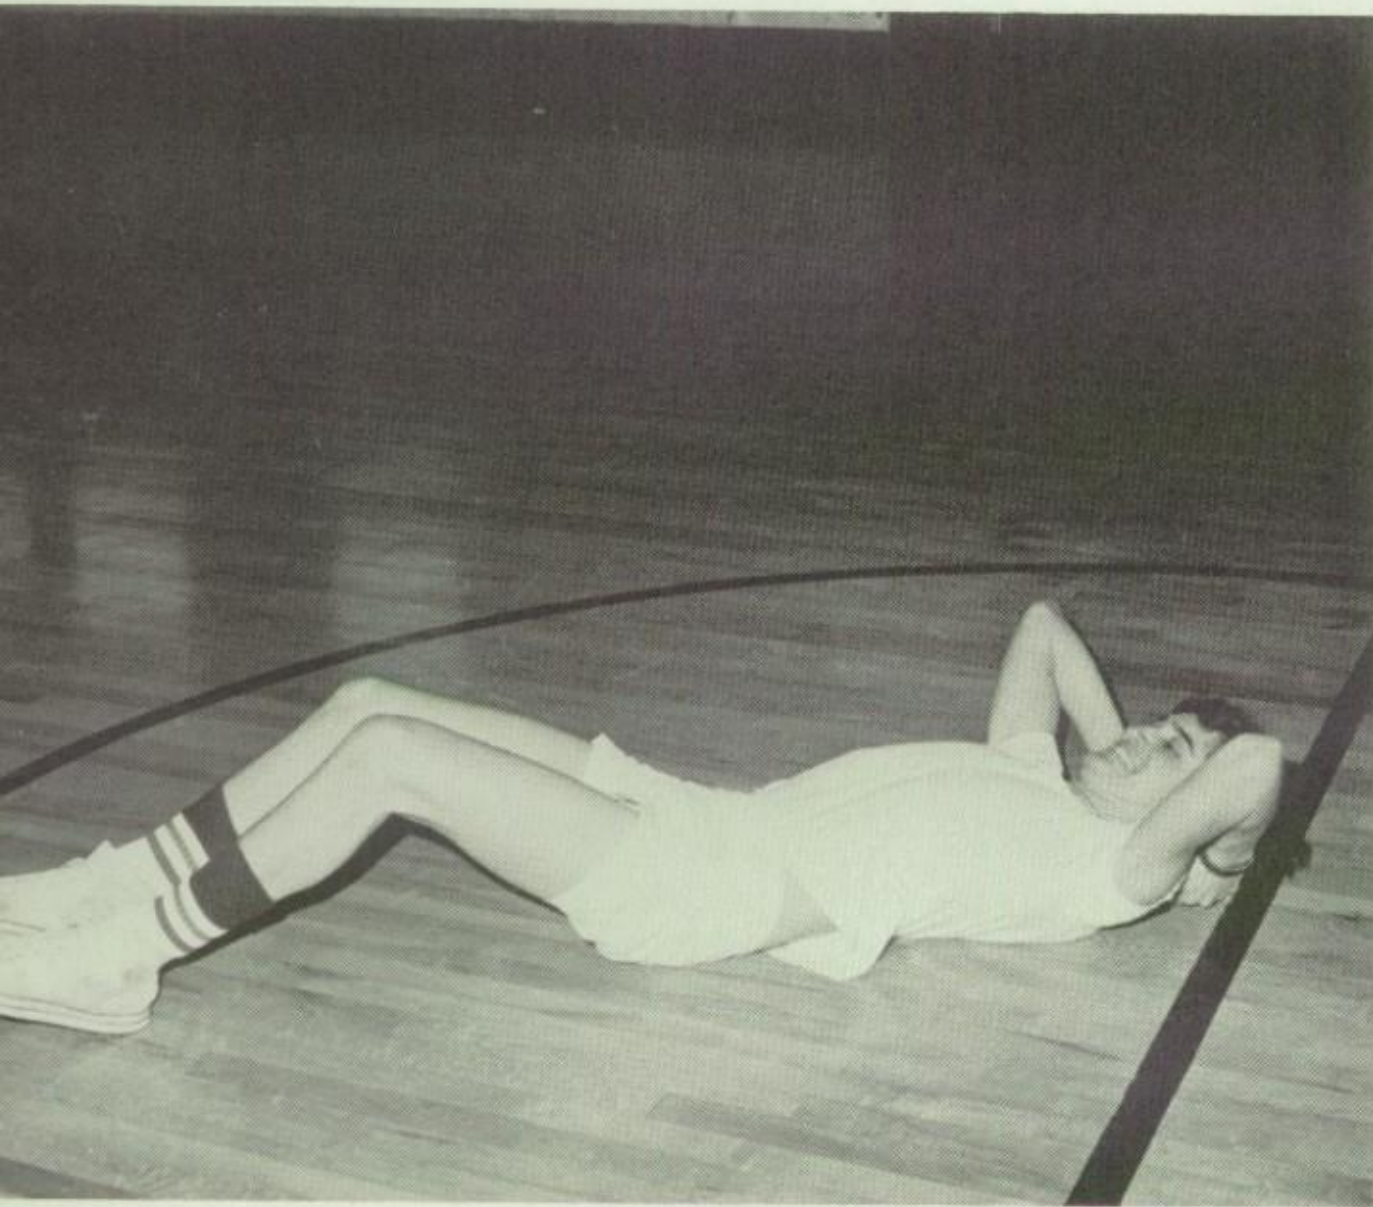

(1) All the members are shown making merry at the Annual Squirrel and Crow Dinner. (2) Non-stop talented Julie Blades does impressions and "coonfits" to the delight of all. (3) Yearbook editors Alan Rader and Mike Bridges, along with Lynn Propps are up to their old "tricks." (4) Terri Champieux sells a yearbook, something which she had no trouble at all doing.

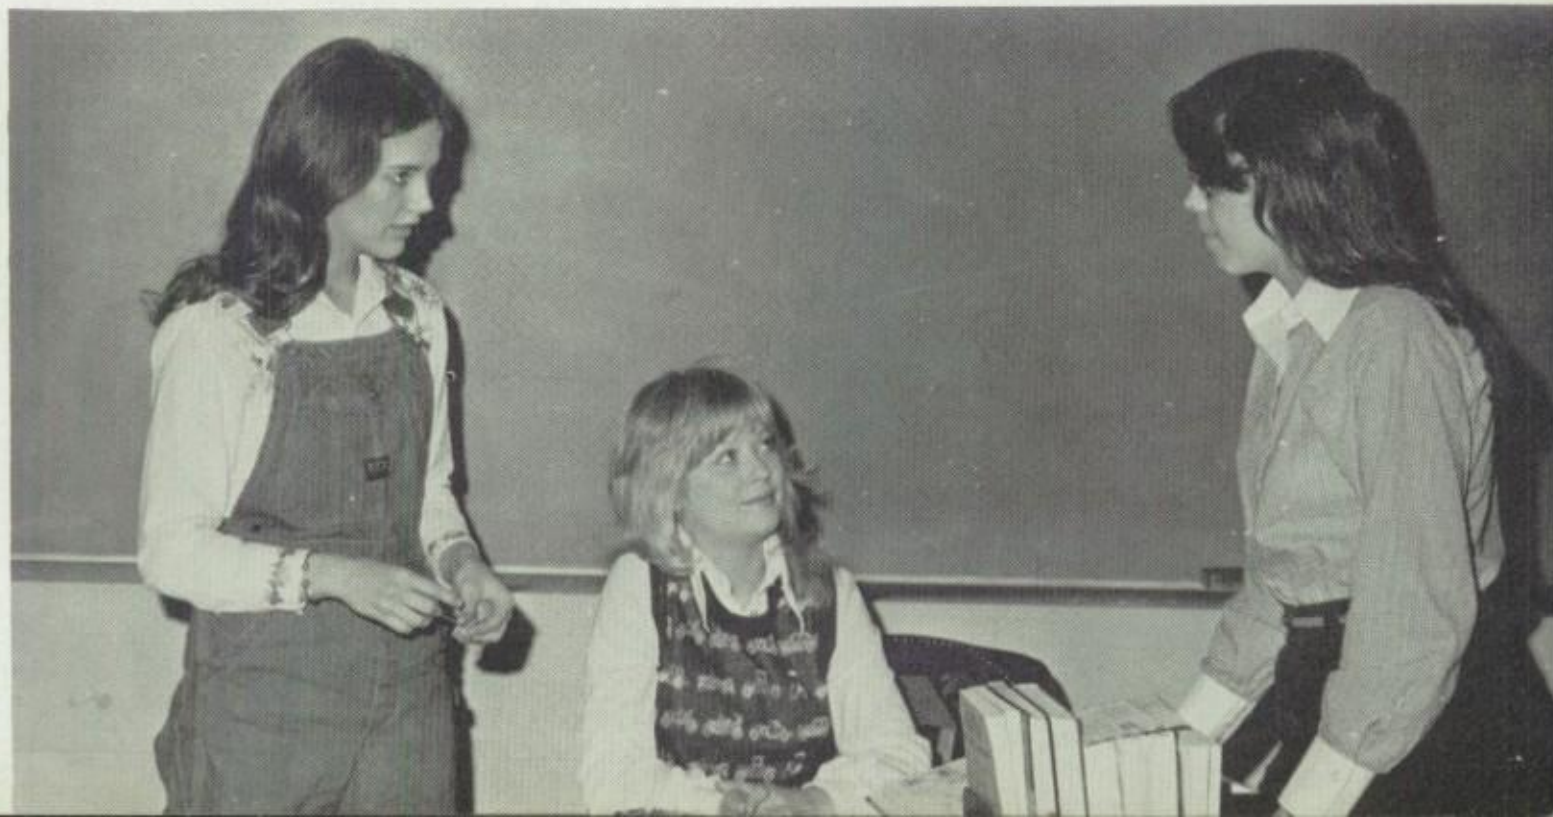

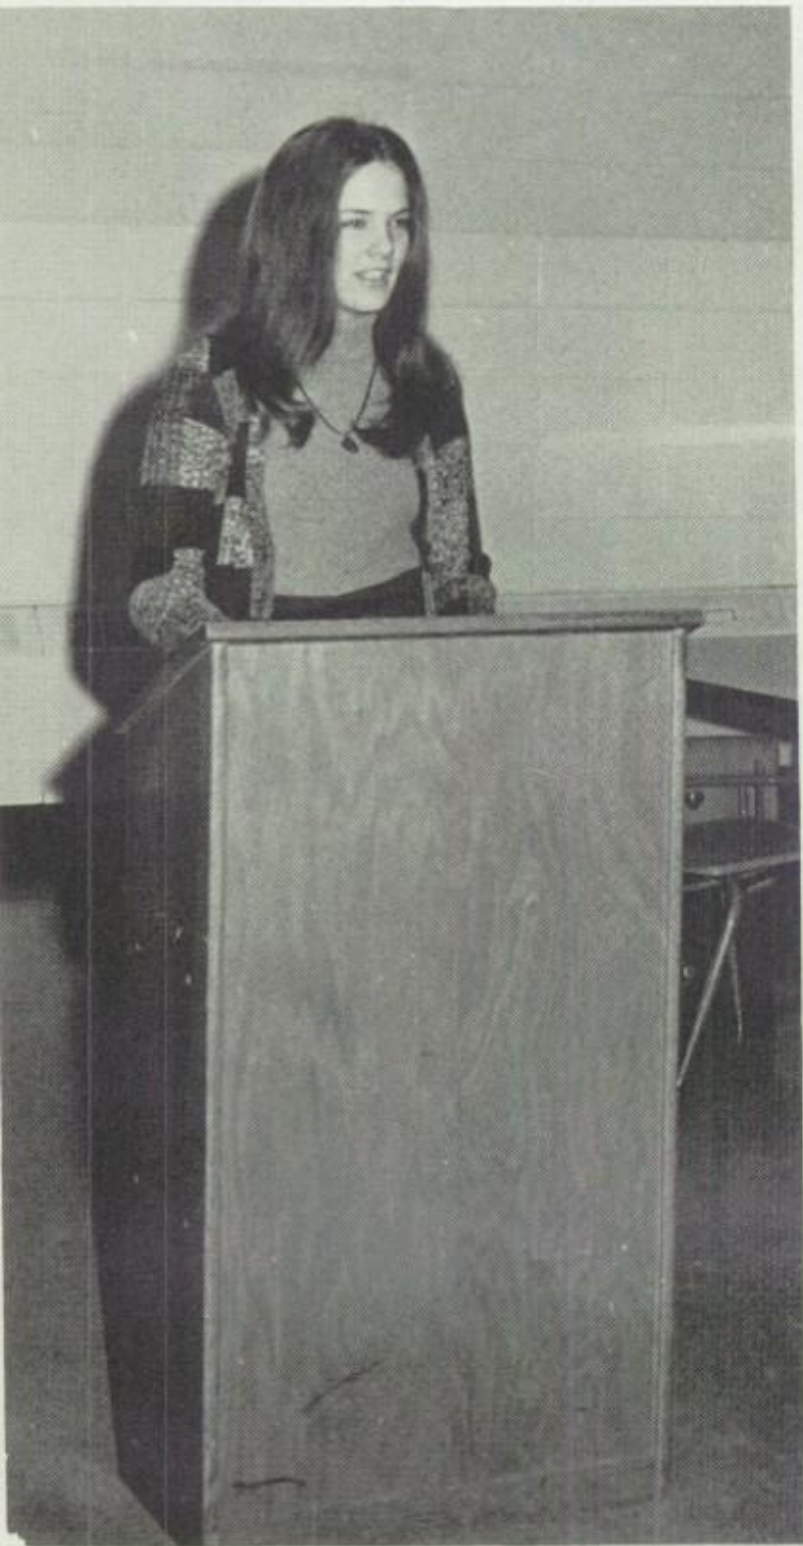

Luis Shares His Life with RHS

Luis Jesus Gonzalez de Ferrino came to RHS from Saltillo, Mexico, to stay with the Kothenbeutel family for nine months. Luis is seventeen and was enrolled as a Senior at RHS. At his school in Saltillo he has one more semester to go before his graduation. He loves sports and proves to be pretty good in them, especially golf. His ambition is to be an engineer.

Cindy & Cathy . . . A Summer of Memories

Two students of RHS spent their summers in other countries as foreign exchange students. Cathy Connis stayed with the family of Jorge Guerrero in Alajuela, Costa Rica. It is the second largest city in Costa Rica. Cindy Weatherford stayed with the family of Gilberto Pelaez in Ibaque, Columbia. It is known as the city of "eternal spring".

RHS Speech And Drama Society

?(There Are No Small Actors Only Small Parts)?

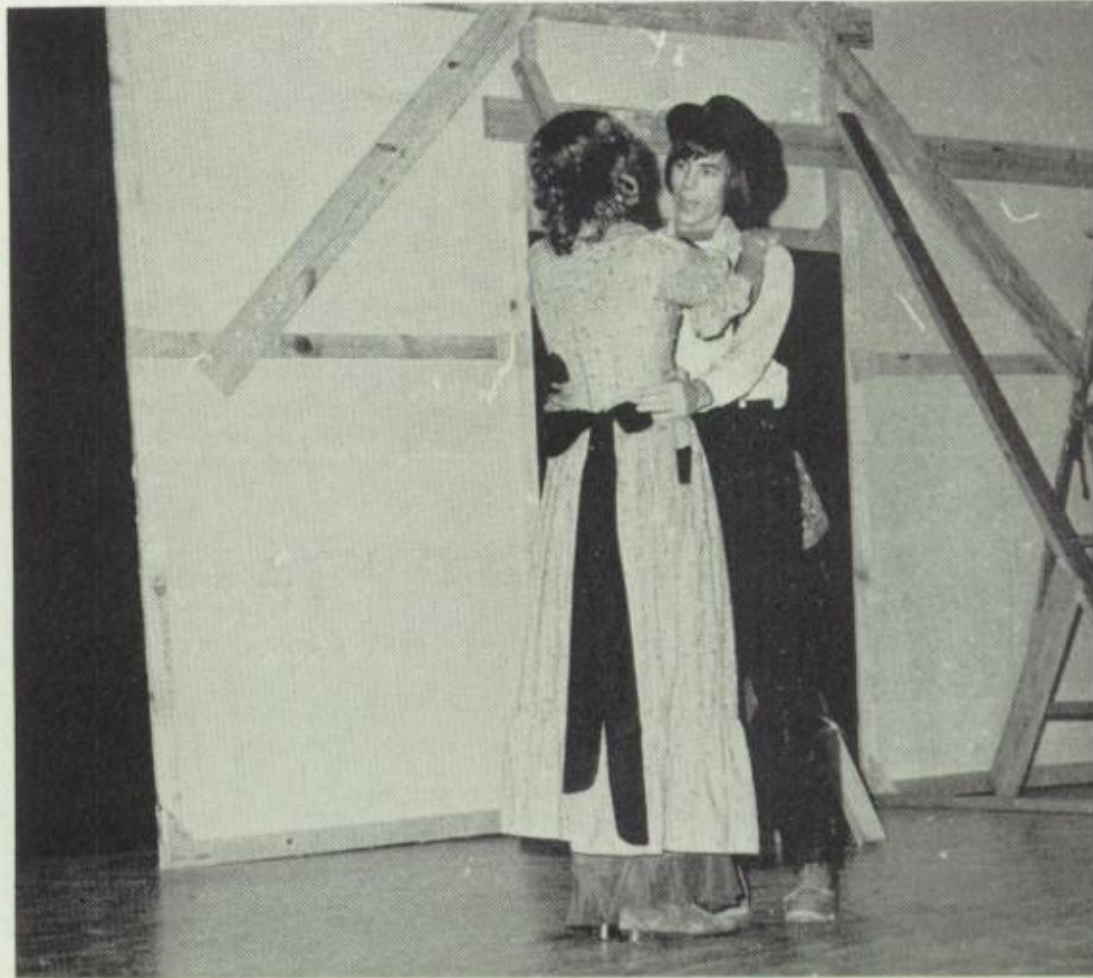

(1) Speech Contest winners, Daphne Henson, Sandy Ethridge, Roy Morgan, Joanna Billingsley, Bret Risan, Karen Fair, and Cindy Beebe proved they could "roll" on to victory. (2) Nolan Garrett, Jana Blades, and Rob Peck are seen practicing their winning trio act. (3) The distinguished membership of Speech Club is shown here with their sponsor, Ms. Deborah Gallion. (4) Kendall McPhail plays a touching love scene with himself. (You probably thought it was Karen Fair.) (5) Dramatics Class is where future stars of RHS productions get their training. "Our Spirit Is Sky High!!!"

The varsity cheerleading squad has had many activities to promote spirit this past year. The girls were chosen runners-up to grand champions at cheerleading camp during the summer. Throughout the school year, they backed the Tigers by selling spirit buttons, decorating halls, busses, and locker rooms, treating the team to cokes after a hard-earned victory, sneaking posters in the guys' yards, and yelling with all their might at games.

(1) Kim Clanton, a senior, has served as a varsity cheerleader for the past two years. (2) After serving as a JV cheerleader for two years, Louann Bennett, a junior, has completed her first year on the varsity squad. 1975 Junior-Senior Prom Becomes "A Time For Us"

(1) Charles Beebe and Kim Wood are shown arriving at Howard Johnson, where the Prom took place. (2) The Juniors selected Debbie Bown and Richard Kendrick to read the Prophecies. (3) The most important privilege of sitting at the head table is getting to eat first. (4) Cindy Weatherford and Mark Ruckman dance the Queen's Dance after Cindy's crowning as Miss Tigress. (5) Joanna Billingsley holds up a fur-lined jock strap, during the wills, as Mark Ruckman looks on. (6) Brad Coggin and Debbie Bown pose in front of the backdrop at the Prom.

Top Ten Becomes Elite Honor As One-Half '75 Class Tops B-Average

(1) Leading the class scholastically was valedictorian Nancy Pipkin. (2) Using the Motto No. 2's try harder Cathy Coonis, salutatorian, takes a break from her busy schedule. (3) Putting their heads together is the Top 10. (4) Ready for graduation is the Top 9 minus Patti Adams. (5) Monkeying around as always are the Top 10 enjoying an afternoon at the Blades farm. This class is one of the first classes at RHS to have 50% of the class with a B-average. This shows how tough it was to be in the Top 10 and what a big honor it is. These are the grade scales on an eleven point scale. Nancy Pipkin-10.80, Cathy Coonis-10.76, Kim Wood-10.71, Lynette Dorrell-10.60, David Lane-10.60, Mike Bridges-10.40, Jana Blades-10.39, Jimmy Butlet-10.33, Patti Adams-10.27, and Mike Kendrick-10.24.

Last Days Together Are Fun Filled

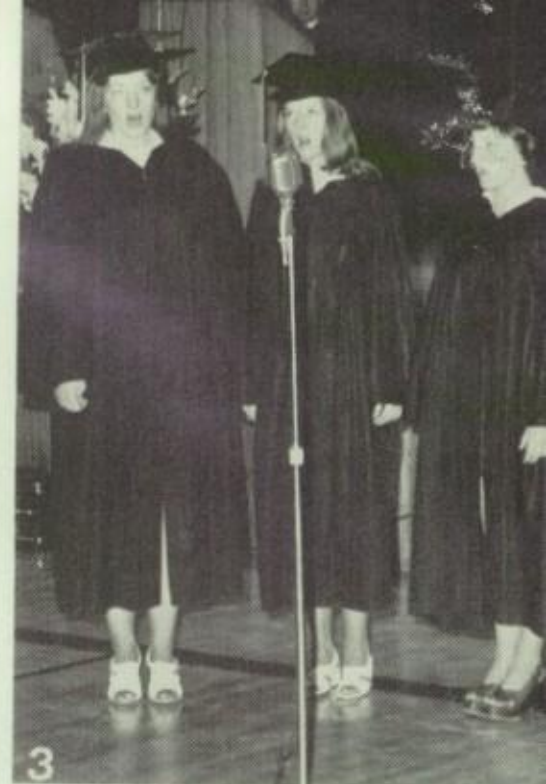

(1) Here the seniors wait to board their chartered bus which will take them to their destiny, Six Flags! (2) One of the senior's activities was a picnic at Phelps Grove Park. They're shown here forming a baseball game. (3) Clowning with Mark and Steve is Mrs. Hancock who had double duty. She was a great sponsor but best of all, she was a good friend to all the seniors. (4) David, Kim, Laurie, and Mark stop during their busy night at Six Flags for a quick picture. (5) One of the many attractions at Six Flags was their dolphin shows. (6) Sugar Loaf provided music for all present at Six Flags Senior night. (7) Charlie looks tired, but happy, as the seniors leave Six Flags. (8) To raise money for their trip, the senior boys had a car wash and raised around $60.00. (9) Jana Blades and Julie Wilcox are shown here working at the senior girls bake sale at which they raised about $70.0 $70.00 for their trip.

Final Ceremonies Seal Memories

(1) Seniors' attention is held by the minister at baccalaureate. (2) Kenneth Day hands Jerry Newberry a well-deserved diploma. (3) Performing for the service were the girl's sextet singing

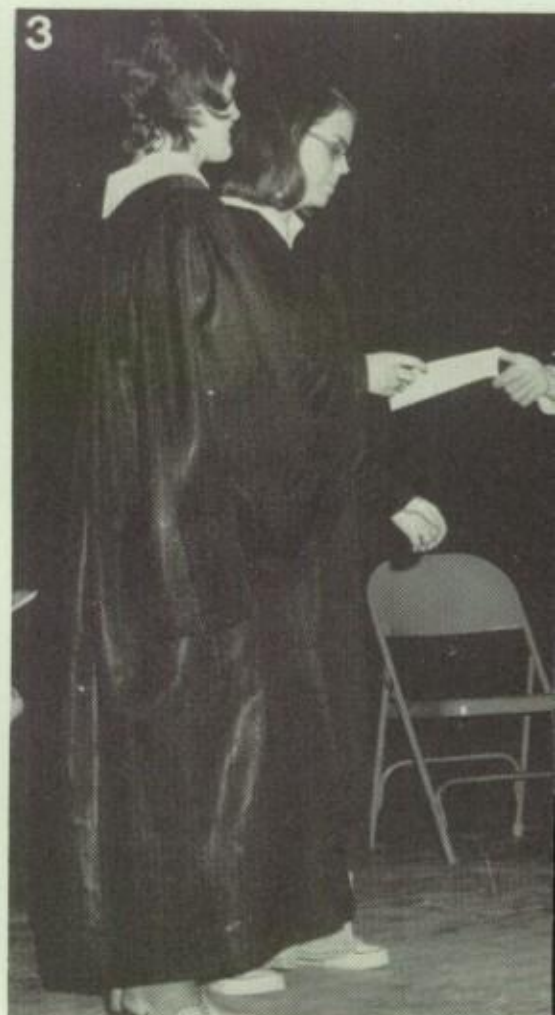

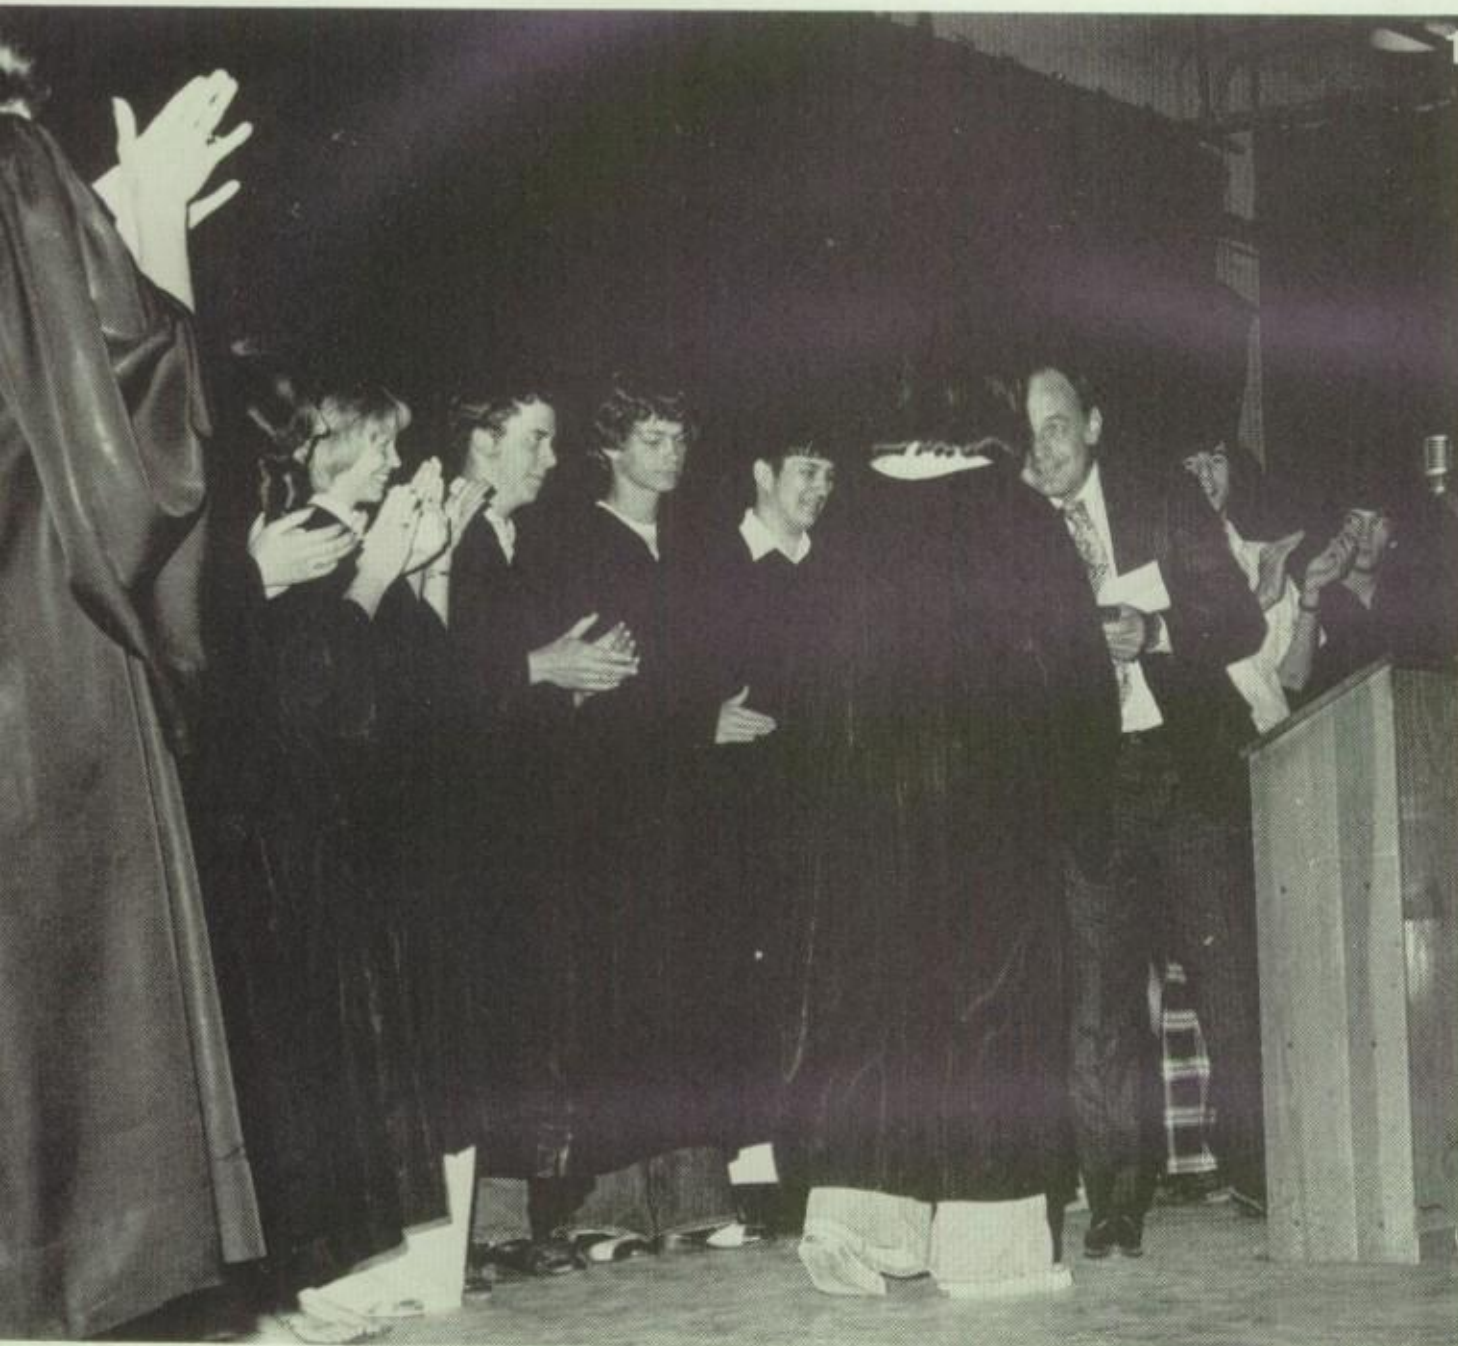

"Hear My Prayer." (4) Rev. Stanley White is shown here as he brings the baccalaureate message.

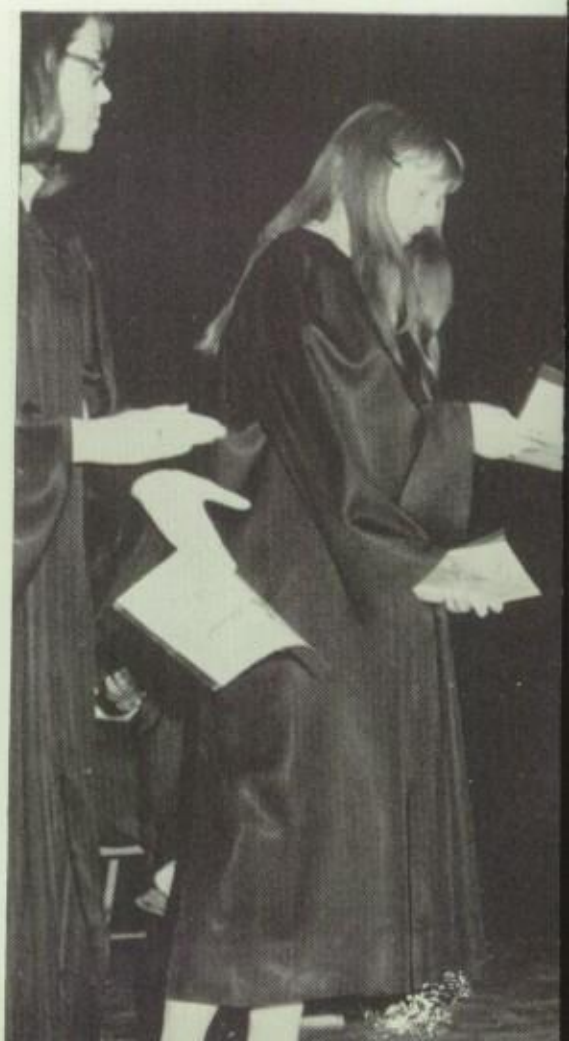

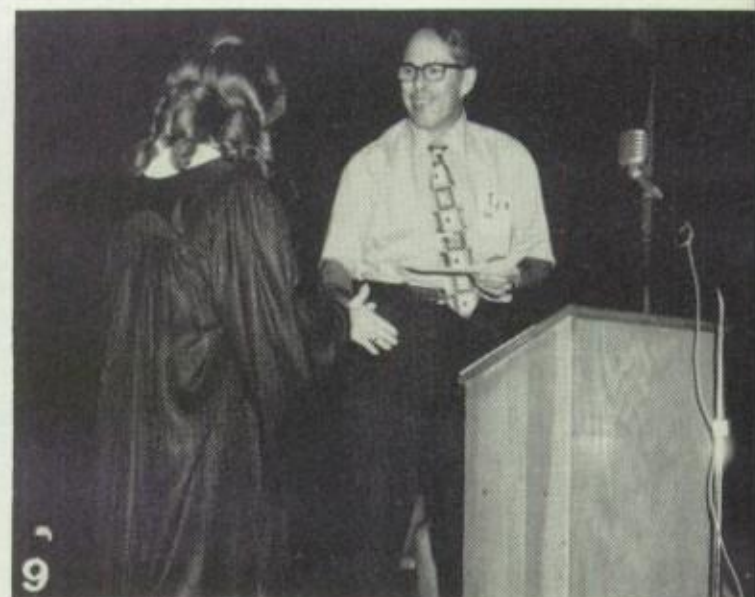

(5) Commencement exercises went according to the program pictured here. (6) Valedictorian, Nancy Pipkin, is captured giving her speech, which was a "Challenge To The Seniors." (7) "What a time to get tickled!", could have been Marti Coggin's thoughts as she and Dale Nachtrab walk into baccalaureate. (8) Solemn faces display their solemn thoughts as Julie Wilcox and Maurice Harlow start the long walk to their seats at graduation.

Awards Make the Year Worthwhile

(1) The best citizens this year were Cathy Coonis and Charles Rogers. Here Cathy is presented with the honor while the other nominees look on. (2) Mrs. Durbin is captured giving a P.E. award to Lynn Propps. (3) Here Nancy Pipkin and Cathy Coonis are honored by Mrs. Gibson for being valedictorian and salutatorian. (4) Joanna Billingsley comes galloping up the stage to receive the history award from Mr. Ovitt.

(5) The accompanist award is given to Kim Wood by Mr. Moffitt while Cathy looks on after she and Kim received the John Phillip Sousa Award. (6) Here, Spanish and French awards are presented by Mrs. Stockton. Lois Spickler received the best French award and Charles Rogers scored highest for the Spanish award. (7) Randy Foster was the recipient for this year's Art award from Mrs. Weibe. (8) Cathy Coonis eagerly takes the English award that Mrs. Andrus presents her. (9) One of her many scholarships, totaling $920.00 in all, is given to Renee Ramsey by Mr. Klingenbiel.

Pam,

I don't know you very well
 but I hope to before the year ends. May God bless you real good and good luck in everything you do.

Building for Today . . . Planning for Tomorrow

"If a man is willing to stay the same tomorrow as today, without change, there is little hope for his future, for there would be no nourishment for his mind . . . or his soul."

This past year students and teachers have talked above the sound of heavy equipment and endured the smell of fresh tar. All the inconvenience will be worth it when the faculty and student body utilize the desperately needed space this fall. The community is to be commended for its foresight in meeting the ever-growing educational needs of our youth.

I am hope you had nice summer
wish you all the best P.S. You'll always be at the top of my list

Pam,

Pam

I'll never forget you as long as I live. I hope you don't move. You've had your problems with
Allen and all the rest.
And I hope you'll find happiness with Chris. We've had our bad times but there forgotten.

Never forget. I'll remember the few times we did have together.
treasure
our friendship
always. Love
Cathy

HaBless ya,

I think we're really got a friendship for the time we've known each other. I just want you to know that it's a great feeling to have good friends.
Keep cool!
